a. Notice to sellers, buyers, landlords and tenants (environmental risks).

Whenever property is acquired or occupied, Buyer incurs some degree of risk with regard to potential environmental contamination and/or protected natural resources on the property. Such risk can be minimized through the performance of environmental due diligence.

No real estate broker/salespersons in this transaction possess the expertise necessary to assess the nature or extent of these environmental risks or to determine the presence of environmental contamination or protected natural resources. The real estate broker/salespersons involved in this transaction do not make independent investigations as to environmental contamination or protected natural resources with respect to any property, and they make no representations regarding the presence or absence, now or in the past, of environmental contamination. It is therefore prudent for each party to this transaction to seek legal and technical counsel from professionals experienced in environmental matters to provide an evaluation of the environmental risks associated with the transaction.
